Structure for our 2025 course instruction and related (field) trips regarding permit requirements on public lands. Two methods are available:

Northern Colorado Group, CMC Policy & Procedures

- 1.a. Structure each course with classroom instruction for a fee to students. Award badges for successful completion (or utilize a certificate system in lieu of badges, if badges are not made available).
- b. Post any related field work as an official CMC trip(s) at no fee with the trip(s) open to any qualified individual (including prerequisites such as membership, badges, or course work). In some courses, utilization of a state park, use of private land with permission, or use of a public right of way will allow posting field trip(s) with the fee-based course.
- 2.a. Structure each course with class instruction for a fee to students. Award badges for successful completion (or utilize a certificate system in lieu of badges, if badges are not made available).
- b. Structure any related fieldwork as a course with no fee to students with the course being open to any qualified individual (including prerequisites such as membership, badges, or course work). Award badges for successful completion (or utilize a certificate system in lieu of badges, if badges are not made available).

These concepts are based on the current reality that public land permits for which we applied have not been responded to. If permits are received for a particular course, it may proceed in accordance with our existing policy.

- * Mountain Hiking Course annually
- * Basic Mountaineering Course or Alpine Scrambling Course in the spring of alternating years
